ARSENAULT RETURNS TO HOCKEY ROOTS

Concordia Stinger hockey coach Paul Arsenault will be returning to Beaconsfield, Quebec in August for the Stinger Hockey School. Arsenault, the third winningest university coach in North America first opened the school in 1972. However, coaching commitments forced him to sell the school five years ago. The Beaconsfield resident enters his 26th year behind the bench of the much improved Stingers, who boast 12 West Island Residents on its current roster.

"I've missed working with Stinger hockey school", said Arsenault. "It's so rewarding to see how much these hockey players can learn in one week."

The Stinger hockey school takes place from August 14-25 at the Beaconsfield Arena.
